

---

High Density Sequencing Systems – Property Tax Exemption

---

revenue.wi.gov

High density sequencing systems are exempt from general property tax. High density sequencing systems are electronic or mechanical operations that move printed materials from one place to another within a production process. The production process can include organizing, storing and retrieving the printed materials.

Last Updated: March 12, 2014