Form 1099-G Available Online – Use If Itemizing Your Federal Tax Return

Taxpayers can now access their 2016 Form 1099-G on the Wisconsin Department of Revenue website. This form provides information about your state tax refund, which you must include as income on your federal tax return if you itemize deductions.

Taxpayers can view or print their Form 1099-G on the Department's secure and confidential website at revenue.wi.gov. You can click on the Individuals tab and go to 1099-G Look up. If you use a tax preparer, give the form to that person with the rest of your tax documents.

The Department will begin accepting state income tax returns electronically online beginning January 23, the same day as the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
