

Instructions for Completing Wisconsin Schedule I – 2018

General Instructions

Introduction – Generally, the Wisconsin Statutes require that the computation of taxable income on the 2018 Wisconsin income tax return is to be based on the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) enacted as of December 31, 2017. Changes made to the IRC enacted after December 31, 2017, do not apply for Wisconsin income tax purposes unless adopted by Wisconsin law.

Wisconsin law also provides that certain provisions of federal law do not apply for Wisconsin purposes (even though the provisions were enacted into federal law prior to December 31, 2017). Some of those provisions are:

- Exclusion for small business stock
- Special depreciation allowance

As a result, certain income and deduction items may be different for Wisconsin and federal purposes. Any difference must be adjusted on this schedule. A description of certain items requiring adjustment can be found in Part IA on page 6 under IRC Differences Between Federal and Wisconsin Law.

Who Must File – If the computation of your federal adjusted gross income or itemized deductions reflects any of the differences in Wisconsin and federal law for 2018, you must complete this schedule and attach it to your Wisconsin income tax return, Form 1 or Form 1NPR.

To the extent Schedule I adjustments in a prior year affect income or expense items in 2018 (for example, the depreciation difference related to bonus depreciation did not apply for 2014-2017), you must also make adjustments on Schedule I for 2018.

It also may be necessary to prepare a 2018 Schedule I to adjust the amount of gain or loss reportable from sales of certain assets during 2018 (for example, gain from the sale of certain small business stock is taxable for Wisconsin but not for federal tax purposes). See the line instructions for information on provisions of federal law that do not apply for Wisconsin.

Using a Different Federal Election for Wisconsin – Various elections are available under the federal IRC. When an election is available under the IRC adopted for Wisconsin, a taxpayer may choose one election for federal tax purposes and a different election for Wisconsin. For example, a taxpayer may elect to claim different amounts of IRC sec. 179 expense for federal and Wisconsin tax purposes.

Either of the following two methods may be used to claim a different election for Wisconsin and federal tax purposes.

- Prepare a pro forma federal return based on the election chosen for Wisconsin. This pro forma return is to be attached to the Wisconsin Form 1 or Form 1NPR instead of the actual return filed for federal tax purposes.
- Make the election using Wisconsin Schedule I, Adjustments to Convert 2018 Federal Adjusted Gross Income and Itemized Deductions to the Amounts Allowable for Wisconsin.

Example: For federal tax purposes you claim the credit under sec. 45E of the IRC for 50 percent of the startup costs of a small employer pension plan. When claiming the credit, you must reduce your deduction for that portion of the startup costs equal to the credit. However, sec. 45E(e)(3) of the IRC, provides an election to not claim the credit. Because an election is available, you may elect to not claim the credit on your federal return and instead claim the deduction for the startup costs. Use either of the two methods listed above to make a different election for Wisconsin purposes.

Be sure to also adjust any other items on your federal return that are affected by the election. For example, if you claim a different election for sec. 179 expense, this would also affect the amount of depreciation allowed and your depreciation deduction should also be adjusted.

Partners, Beneficiaries of Estates and Trusts, and Shareholders of Tax-Option (S) Corporations – The income and deduction items computed on the Wisconsin returns of partnerships, estates and trusts, and tax-option (S) corporations may also be affected by the differences between Wisconsin and federal law for 2018. As a result, the distributive shares of these items which are reportable on the individual Wisconsin income tax returns of the respective partners, beneficiaries, and shareholders may differ for Wisconsin and federal income tax purposes. Such partners, beneficiaries, and shareholders should receive notification from the partnership, estate or trust, or tax-option (S) corporation of the amounts reportable for Wisconsin purposes. By comparing the amounts reportable for Wisconsin and federal purposes, the partner, beneficiary, or shareholder should determine the items which differ and make the appropriate adjustments.

Note: When adjusting income or expenses of an entity, additional items may also require adjustment. For example, adjusting depreciation allowed to a partnership would change the amount of income or loss from the entity. If the entity is subject to the passive activity limitations, federal Form 8582, Passive Activity Loss Limitations, would need to be recomputed for Wisconsin to substitute the Wisconsin partnership information for the amount determined on the federal Form 8582. Any difference in the amount of passive activity loss allowed for federal tax purposes and the amount allowed from the recomputed Form 8582 would also be a Schedule I adjustment. Any other federal schedules or forms affected by the Schedule I adjustment should also be recomputed (for example, Schedule E) and attached to the Wisconsin return. Mark these recomputed forms or schedules "Revised for Wisconsin."

Specific Instructions

Note When an adjustment is made on the lines below, this may affect other amounts which must then also be adjusted. For example, the amount of social security includable in federal adjusted gross income may be affected when an adjustment is made to an income item. The adjustment to social security includable in federal adjusted gross income should be reported on one of the "other" lines, as appropriate.

Part I - Line Instructions

Line 1

Fill in your 2018 federal adjusted gross income (FAGI) from line 7 of your federal Form 1040. If your FAGI is a loss, place a minus sign (-) in front of the number.

Line 2

Enter any additions to income due to the difference between federal and Wisconsin law on the corresponding line for the adjustments below.

Line 2a - Reserved

Note: The federal deduction for tuition and fees expired on December 31, 2017. This line is reserved to be completed if this provision is extended by Congress.

Line 2b - Reserved

Note: The federal exclusion for discharge of indebtedness on principle residence expired on December 31, 2017. This line is reserved to be completed if this provision is extended by Congress.

Lines 2c and 4b - Depreciation

Complete these lines only if there is a difference in the amount of depreciation allowed for federal income tax purposes and for Wisconsin tax purposes based on the Wisconsin definition of the IRC. For example, you would have a difference in depreciation if you claimed the federal special 100 percent additional depreciation for assets placed in service in 2018. In addition, if you had a depreciation difference on Schedule I for property placed in service on or after January 1, 2014 (or the first day of your taxable year beginning in 2014), you will continue to have a difference in depreciation to report on Schedule I each year until the property is fully depreciated or until you sell or otherwise dispose of the property.

To adjust for any difference, you must first add back your federal depreciation by entering the federal amount on line 2c of Schedule I. You may then subtract the revised depreciation allowed for Wisconsin on line 4b.

Complete a revised federal Form 4562 and any accompanying forms and schedules. Mark these revised forms and schedules "Revised for Wisconsin."

Certain differences in the Wisconsin and federal definition of the IRC that apply for 2018 related to depreciation can be found in Part IA on page 6 under IRC Differences Between Federal and Wisconsin Law.

Lines 2d, 2f, 4c and 4e - Capital Gains and Losses from Federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040), Line 13

Complete these lines only if there is a difference in the amount of capital gains or losses allowed for federal and Wisconsin income tax purposes based on the Wisconsin definition of the IRC.

Note On January 1, 2014 (or the first day of your taxable year beginning in 2014) the Wisconsin basis of all depreciable or amortizable assets placed in service before January 1, 2014, is the same as the federal basis. If you reported a federal gain or loss on the sale or disposition of an asset that was placed in service prior to that date, no adjustment is to be made on Schedule I to account for differences in the amount of depreciation or amortization claimed on Schedule I in prior years.

The gain or loss reportable from a sale may differ for Wisconsin and federal purposes due to Schedule I adjustments made in the current year or a prior year.

To properly report such gain or loss on your Wisconsin return, you must first remove all gain or loss included on line 13 of your federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040). This is done by filling in line 2d or 4e. If the amount on line 13 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040) is a gain, fill in that amount on line 4e of Schedule I. If the amount on line 13 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040) is a loss, fill in that amount as a positive number on line 2d of Schedule I.

Next, complete a revised federal Schedule D, Form 8949, and any accompanying forms and schedules. Mark these revised forms and schedules "Revised for Wisconsin."

If the revised forms show a capital gain on line 13 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040), fill in the revised gain on line 2f of Schedule I. If the revised forms show a capital loss on line 13 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040), fill in the revised loss on line 4c of Schedule I as a positive number.

Enclose the revised federal Schedule D, Form 8949, and any accompanying forms and schedules with Form 1 or Form 1NPR.

CAUTION The amount on line 2f must also be included on Wisconsin Schedule WD, line 29a. The amount on line 4c must also be included on Wisconsin Schedule WD, line 29e.

Certain differences in the Wisconsin and federal definition of the IRC that apply for 2018 related to capital gains and losses can be found in Part IA on page 6 under IRC Differences Between Federal and Wisconsin Law.

Lines 2e, 2g, 4d, and 4f - Ordinary Gains and Losses from Federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040), Line 14

Complete these lines only if there is a difference in the amount of ordinary gain or loss allowed for federal and Wisconsin income tax purposes based on the Wisconsin definition of the IRC.

To properly report such gain or loss on your Wisconsin return, you must first remove all ordinary gain or loss reported on line 14 of your federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040). This is done by filling in line 2e or 4f. If the amount on line 14 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040) is a gain, fill in that amount on line 4f of Schedule I. If the amount on line 14 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040) is a loss, fill in that amount as a positive number on line 2e of Schedule I.

Next, complete a revised federal Form 4797, Form 4684, and any accompanying forms and schedules. Mark these revised forms and schedules "Revised for Wisconsin."

If the revised forms show an ordinary gain for Wisconsin on line 14 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040), fill in the revised gain on line 2g. If the revised forms show an ordinary loss for Wisconsin, fill in the revised loss on line 4d as a positive number.

Enclose the revised federal Form 4797, Form 4684, and any accompanying forms and schedules with Form 1 or Form 1NPR.

Lines 2h, i, and j and 4g, h, and i - Other

These lines are used to report any other differences between the amounts allowed for federal and Wisconsin income tax purposes based on the Wisconsin definition of the IRC. They are also used to report other items that need to be adjusted because of other IRC adjustments. For example, passive activity losses may have to be adjusted because of a depreciation adjustment. Enter a description of the item being adjusted on the lines provided.

If the difference between the federal amount and the Wisconsin amount results in an increase in income, the amount of the adjustment is an addition to Wisconsin income and is reported on lines 2h, i, or j. If the difference between the federal amount and the Wisconsin amount results in a decrease in Wisconsin income, the amount of the adjustment is a subtraction from income and is reported on lines 4g, h, or i as a positive number.

Note: When determining the difference between the federal amount and the Wisconsin amount and you are adjusting an income amount, treat the amounts as positive numbers. If you are adjusting an expense item, for example, amounts claimed as Adjustments to Income on lines 23 through 36 of federal Schedule 1 (Form 1040), treat the amounts as negative numbers.

Lines 2h, i, and j

- If the federal amount and the Wisconsin amount are positive numbers (or one number is a positive number and the other number is zero) and the Wisconsin amount is larger than the federal amount, subtract the federal amount from the Wisconsin amount. Fill in the difference as an addition on lines 2h, i, or j.
- If the federal amount and the Wisconsin amount are negative numbers (or one number is a negative number and the other number is zero) and the federal amount is larger than the Wisconsin amount, subtract the Wisconsin amount from the federal amount. Fill in the difference as an addition on lines 2h, i, or j. Treat both amounts as if they were positive numbers when figuring which amount is larger and when subtracting the federal and Wisconsin amounts.
- If the federal amount is negative and the Wisconsin amount is positive, add the federal amount and Wisconsin amount together, treating both numbers as positive numbers. Fill in the result as an addition on lines 2h, i, or j.

Lines 4g, h, and i

- If the federal amount and the Wisconsin amount are positive numbers (or one number is a positive number and the other number is zero) and the federal amount is larger than the Wisconsin amount, subtract the Wisconsin amount from the federal amount. Fill in the difference as a subtraction on lines 4g, h, or i as a positive number.
- If the federal amount and the Wisconsin amount are negative numbers (or one number is a negative number and the other number is zero) and the Wisconsin amount is larger than the federal amount, subtract the federal amount from the Wisconsin amount. Fill in the difference as a subtraction on lines 4g, h, or i as a positive number. Treat both amounts as if they were positive numbers when figuring which amount is larger and when subtracting the federal and Wisconsin amounts.
- If the Wisconsin amount is negative and federal amount is positive, add the Wisconsin and federal amount together, treating both numbers as positive numbers. Fill in the result as a subtraction on lines 4g, h, or i as a positive number.

Certain differences in the Wisconsin and federal definition of the IRC that apply for 2018 can be found in Part IA on page 6 under IRC Differences Between Federal and Wisconsin Law.

Line 2k

Add the amounts on lines 2a through 2j. Fill in the total on line 2k.

Line 3

If the amount on line 1 is a positive amount, add the amounts on line 1 and line 2k. Fill in the total as a positive number on line 3.

CAUTION If the amount on line 1 is a negative amount, treat the amount as a positive amount and figure the amount for line 3 as follows:

- If the amount on line 1 is greater than the amount on line 2k, subtract line 2k from line 1 and fill in the result as a negative number on line 3.
- If the amount on line 1 is less than the amount on line 2k, subtract line 1 from line 2k and fill in the result as a positive number on line 3.

Line 4

Enter, as a positive amount, any subtraction from income due to the difference between federal and Wisconsin law on the corresponding line for the adjustments listed on page 5.

Part II Instructions

Whenever federal adjusted gross income has been increased or decreased in Part I of Schedule I, itemized deductions which are computed using federal adjusted gross income (for example, medical expenses and charitable contributions) may require adjustment. The deductible amounts of any such items used to compute the Wisconsin itemized deduction credit must be determined by using the federal adjusted gross income computed on line 5 of Part I.

See the following list for certain itemized deductions that require adjustment. Enter the amount per federal law in Column I and the amount per Wisconsin law in Column II for the corresponding description related to the adjustment. For example, if the adjustment relates to a difference in gifts to charity allowed for federal and Wisconsin purposes, enter the amounts in Col. 1 and Col. 2 on line 1c. If the adjustment is not listed on lines 1a through 1c, enter the adjustment(s) on lines 1d and 1e and a brief description on the line. The amounts in Column II should be used to compute your itemized deduction credit on Schedule 1 of Form 1 or Form 1NPR.
