

2022 Schedule CR Instructions

General Instructions

Further information on these credits can be found on the schedule referred to on Schedule CR. For example, information on the agriculture credit will be found on Schedule MA-A.

IMPORTANT The various schedules also indicate what items must be included with the tax return. Be sure to include:

- Schedule CR
- Schedule CF for carryforward of unused credits
- The appropriate listed schedule
- Any additional required information. For example, programs administered by the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) require certification by that corporation before claiming credits. Such certification must be included.

NOTE When completing Parts I and II, on the appropriate line of column A, fill in the amount of credit that you have available for 2022 for each credit. In column B, fill in the amount of credit that you are actually using to offset tax for 2022.

If a credit is no longer available (only a carryforward of the credit is allowed), the amounts in Columns A and B of Schedule CR will be the same as the amounts in Columns (d) and (e) of Schedule CF.

CAUTION Individuals and Fiduciaries – When claiming the manufacturing or agriculture credit on line 14 or 15 of Schedule CR, the amount of credit available for 2022 to enter in column A is the amount from line 20 of the Schedule MA-A or MA-M. The amount of credit used for 2022 to enter in column B cannot be more than the amount on line 22 of Schedule MA-A or MA-M.

Various options are available when determining the amount of credit to be used each year. Except for the manufacturer's sales tax credit, which must be used as determined on Schedule MS, you may choose whether to use all, a portion, or none of a nonrefundable credit for 2022.

For example, you have a $2,000 research credit and a $4,000 development zones credit available for 2022. The amount of tax shown on the return is $2,000. You may choose to use (1) all of the $2,000 research credit and none of the development zones credit or (2) none of the research credit and $2,000 of the development zones credit.
